coffee

Makarios buys coffee direct from a farming community in the Dominican Republic.

Dominican Joe then buys the coffee from Makarios and serves it in our shop.

SO WHO BENEFITS?

The farmers and their families

We buy according to fair trade practices and pay fair prices in order to help them improve their lives.

The kids at both Makarios and Doulos Discovery School

Proceeds from the sale of the coffee go right back into their education.

Our customers

You're not just getting a good cup o' Joe. You're also helping someone in poverty take a step out of that world and into something better.

The Dominican Joe concept was born in early 2005, as a partnership between Mehul Patel (local entrepreneur) and Sharla Megilligan (founder of Makarios).

Our goal was simply to make a difference in the world. The question we faced: could we provide Austin with a high quality coffee shop in a way that made an impact in the world? The vision took shape in early 2006, and on September 19th, after about 18 crazy months, we opened our doors in the heart of Austin at the corner of South Congress and Riverside Drive. Yay us! We breathed a sigh of relief and celebrated and then realized that was the easy part...
